

A detailed illustration of two anthropomorphic foxes sitting on the blue-shingled roof of a wooden house. The fox on the left is wearing a green and white plaid shirt and has its arms crossed, looking towards the right. The fox on the right is wearing a blue and white plaid shirt and is looking down at a small, blue and white floral arrangement on the roof. The background features large trees with dense, golden-yellow foliage against a bright blue sky with soft white clouds. A few leaves are shown falling through the air.
